

Blue

Sarah Christou

faber

Once, I had a secret that no one could see...

I thought of it as blue.

It made me feel nervous on buses

and shy in playgrounds,

and too worried to dance at parties.

In fact, it made me
worry about everything.

