

Always restless, water's falling

dripping

dropping

gushing

pouring.

Always shifting
shape and size

from floods to clouds
that fill the skies

to tears that trickle
from our eyes

vapour, liquid, ice or snow, water's always on the go.

