

Moggy Muggins

by Corb

A cartoon illustration of a red brick house. On the left is a green door with a yellow handle. To the right of the door is a red brick chimney. A speech bubble is positioned over the chimney. The background is a solid red color.

It was a fine
Sunday Morning,
and the elderly
Ms Mucklowe was walking down the Street...

She Stopped,
to gasp...

At a lonely Sight...

...A little
black cat,
Sobbing on the road.

She lent down
to give it a pat...

As she Cradled it
in her arms...

A devilish Smile began
to Show...

The animal flung
from her arms

It tugged on her hair...

...and almost ate her shoes!

Just as she thought it was all over...

...MORE CAME!

And the fight continued...

One of the cats
left forwards...

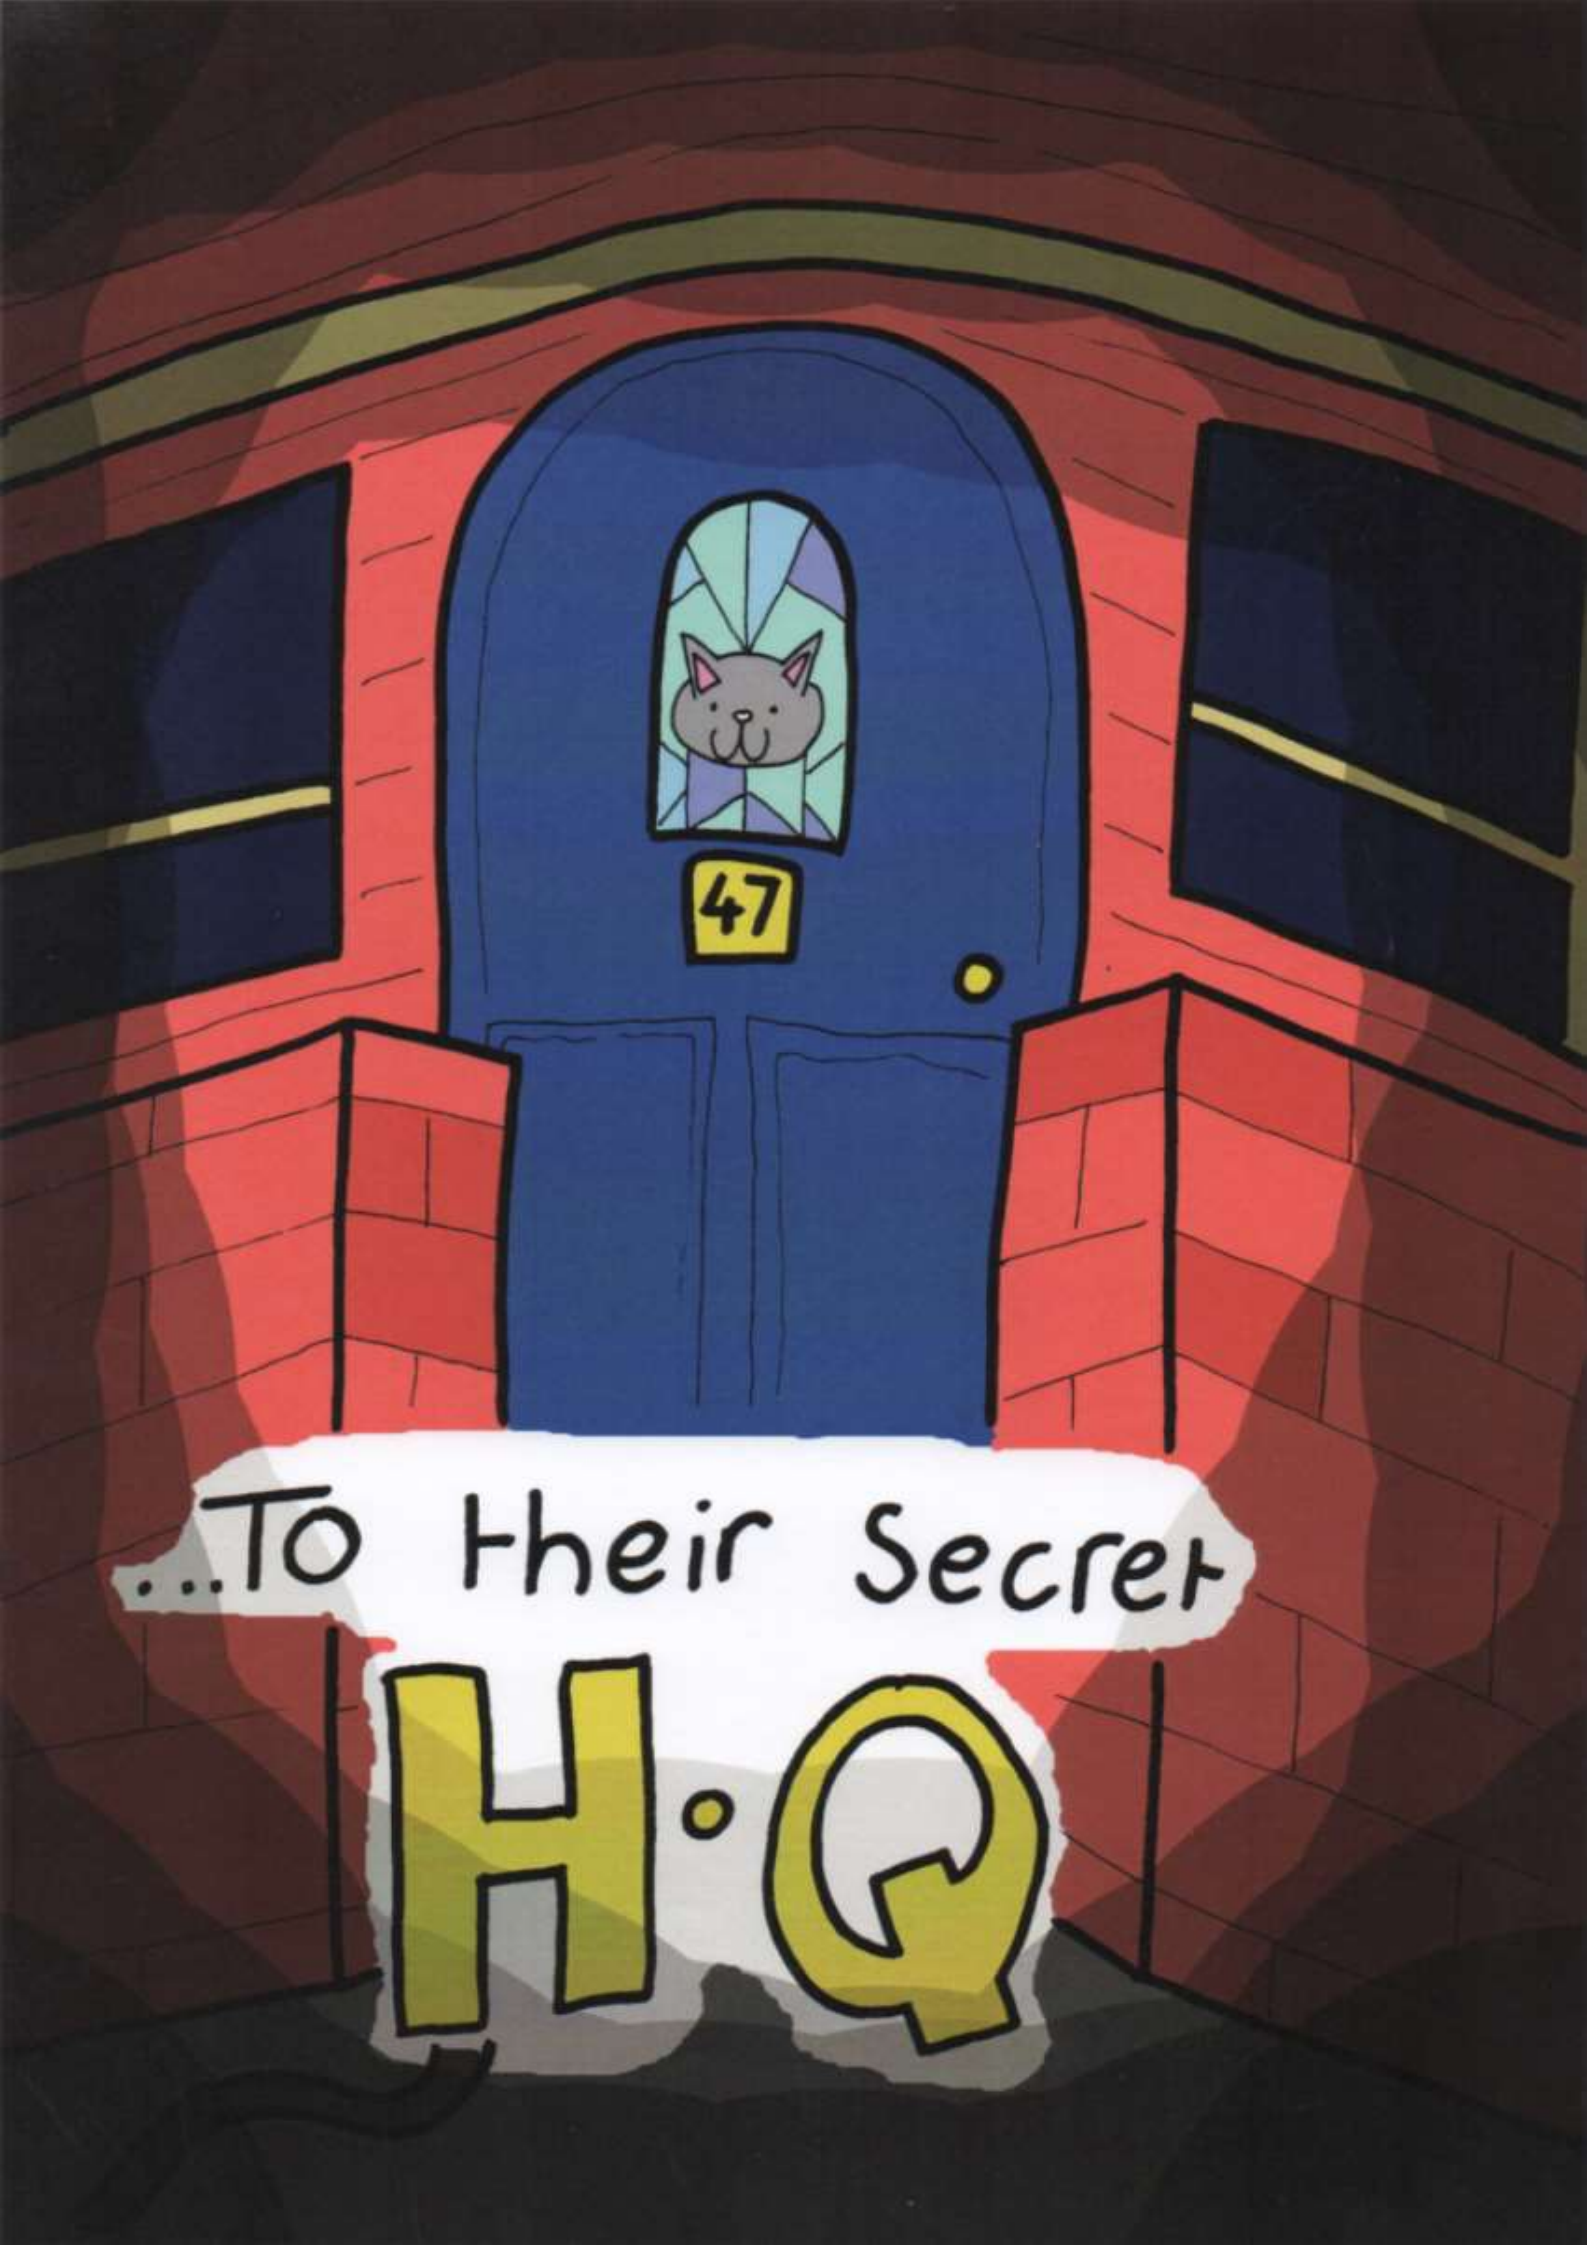

.... and stole
her precious handbag!

It whistled to the others...
...to call a retreat...

...So they all went
a running...

...To Their Secret

H.Q

The home of a lovely little lady...

a.k.a... The RINGLEADER

You see, in return for the cash found in old
lady's handbags...

They'd get a great, fat
juicy fish...

The next day, the 3 cat
'generals', Ben, Snips, and Mitten
were walking down the street,
Searching for another victim...

...when Snips spotted someone running from the bank...

...a bag carrying jewellery and gold on his back!

They followed him through town...

... Past the fountains...

...and over the
sky Scrapers!

POLICE

They eventually caught up and tackled
him to the ground!

However, before the cats
were able to reach the bag, a news presenter popped
a microphone in front of Snips and asked some questions.
Her reply was a simple- "MEOW?"

BEWARE!!

This book contains
fighting felines, crafty cats
karate kitties and
moggy muggins

You have been warned...