

It was a special day at Twit Twoo School, and all the children were very excited. It was Sports Day!

They had been training all week, especially Rabbit. She had decided that she was going to win every single race!